“ When you come to Hua-Hin, we suggest you taste the following dishes.

FRESH SEAFOOD You can order a little spicy, medium or too spicy.
It made for cooking many style as Grilled, Baked, Steamed, Roasted, Fried or Deep fried. Thai food is filled with spices, herbs, fruits & vegetables such as chilli, garlic, lemon grass, ginger and coconut.
These ingredient & others like them are more than just good taste, and traditional Thai cooking has always involved more practical knowledge of HEALTHFUL FOODS than either decoration or flavor.

PAPAYA

Tree melon is the other name for Papaya. It is originally from a plant indigenous to South America. The scientific name is Carica Papaya Linn. Green cooked papaya is an example of a typical Thai dish.
Somtam is sliced, raw green papaya mixed with condiments and eaten as a salad. Green papaya is used in spicy and sour soup. Red papaya has vitamins such as A, B1, C, iron, calcium and phosphorus. Every part of the papaya fruit is palatable and easy to digest. Papaya is a delicious fruit because of its sweet flavour and good nutrition.

Tasty Cuisine

You have tasted on Naresdamri rd. at Da Mario,

MOO SATAY is sliced pork mixed with spices such as fennel before coconut cream is added. The fragrant pieces are then grilled before being spread a second time with coconut cream. The pork is delicious when eaten with a satay sauce of mixed cream and peanuts.
A-chade sauce is a mixture of sliced cucumber, onion and chillies covered with vinegar. For those preferring the less spicy, this dish can be ordered without the sliced chillies and eaten with toast.

Close-up Side Trips

HUA HIN & CHA-AM

Less than four hours by road or rail from Bangkok, Hua Hin with its 3 kms. long white sand beach and small fishing village has long had an air of exclusivity thanks to favouritism by Thai royalty and Bangkok's wealthy elite. The area retains more of a Thai family ambience than other touristy destinations. The weekend getaway of Cha-am is a lovely long stretch of beach that has become popular with youthful groups of Bangkokians. Around 40 kms. from Petchaburi, the resort is extremely peaceful during weekdays, with plenty of delicious seafood to choose from.

From P.1 Shopping

and abroad. With Pranburi being the main center for Pineapples, historically their leaves were treated as a waste product of the industry. However, during the last few years ways have been developed to process these strong fibered leaves, into a booming small village industry using local labor and environmentally friendly materials. The end result is the production of a wide range of local handicrafts such as picture frames, cards, containers, books, jewelry boxes. And a variety of processed fruits are a mainstay of business. Souvenir shops can be found in the town, Daymarket at Chatchai Market & Nightmarket at Dechanuchit rd. and Every weekend at Golden Place near King Palace 9.00 till 5 pm.

Shopping guide in Petchaburi

Sweets is a famous souvenir of this province. Examples are Morkang, Arlua and Sampannee (made from flour & sugar), Bah Bin (made from coconut, sugar & flour), Kanom Chan (a layered sweet made flour & sugar), Chaow Tan Chuerm (palm seed in thick syrup).

So foy Thong, Thong Yip, Thong Yod. They are essentially confections of egg yolk and syrup, although with different methods of preparation, remain widely favoured Thai desserts or khamom. Khao Chare rice served with ice and sweetened meat is a renowned local dish and is popular during the summer season as it cools you down. Visitors are able to buy these sweets as souvenirs from sweet shops in town (near Khao Wang) and many well-known shop on both sides of Phetkasem road.
